

Product Activation Key Installation

If you have purchased a product activation key, you will have a file called:

license_key_PLUGIN_NAME

Where PLUGIN_NAME refers to the product(s).

Windows / Mac AAX Plug-Ins:

Open the plug-in in your host application, and click the locked padlock icon in the top left corner to open a file selector. Use the file selector to navigate to the license_key file.

You will need to restart your host application to complete the activation process.

Important:

We cannot guarantee to replace lost activation keys or downloaded software. Please treat your software with the same care as a physical product.

You are permitted to keep copies of the software and activation keys for your own personal use, however, please note:

Redistribution of product activation key files will be seen as an attempt to redistribute the software, which is expressly forbidden under the terms of the license.
